

Senior Planner, City of Madison, AL

The high-tech, hometown of Madison, Alabama is seeking qualified candidates for Senior Planner to join our professional team. This key role in our well-educated, steadily growing suburb of Huntsville, AL offers planners, economic developers or those who are already both, a full spectrum of municipal development opportunities in a mid-size city.

Projects and responsibilities include management of the Growth Plan updates and compilation and writing of new subarea plans for the Western Growth Area and Midtown, and implementation of the recently adopted Parks & Recreation Master Plan.

Specific job duties include development and management of comprehensive planning processes, including development of policy, regulations, and management of projects to implement them. These plan-making duties incrementally implement approved plans and define place-making details for key development areas in Madison.

Complete Job Posting and instructions on application process are available on the City's website @ www.madisonal.gov